

America Becomes Two Countries: Dream

by David Michael, info@glentivar.org

America Divided Geologically

The destruction of America was most clearly given to me in dream form in seeing the division of the Continent of American into two halves. The resulting two geographical countries were to become Western North America and Eastern North America. The United States was no longer a nation due to the crises. Instead, the land had become owned by the ruling elite of the NWO. Here is the dream of the 25th of July 2011.

As I slept, I was taken up in a space craft the size of a large island that was believed by me to be an Andromadan ship. There were two other ships to the right of me side me of the same massive size also observing this event. They were not involved in the destruction of America but were just there as observers like myself.

My sense is they were at war with some of the other alien forces who were backing the rise of the NWO so they were in armed conflict elsewhere in the cosmos.

On Alien Ship

I found myself on what appeared to be the command deck with very advanced instrumentation all around me but I was the only one there. The room was the size of a large school gym but I was the only one there. "Where is everybody?" I thought in the dream?

As I watched out of a very massive porthole looking to the north from over the Gulf of Mexico, I observed the Mississippi River below me.

Suddenly I saw the New Madrid Fault centered in Missouri give way and divide the North American Continent into two pieces. The Eastern seaboard 'slide' into the ocean to the South-East with massive waves lapping over the new shore lines.

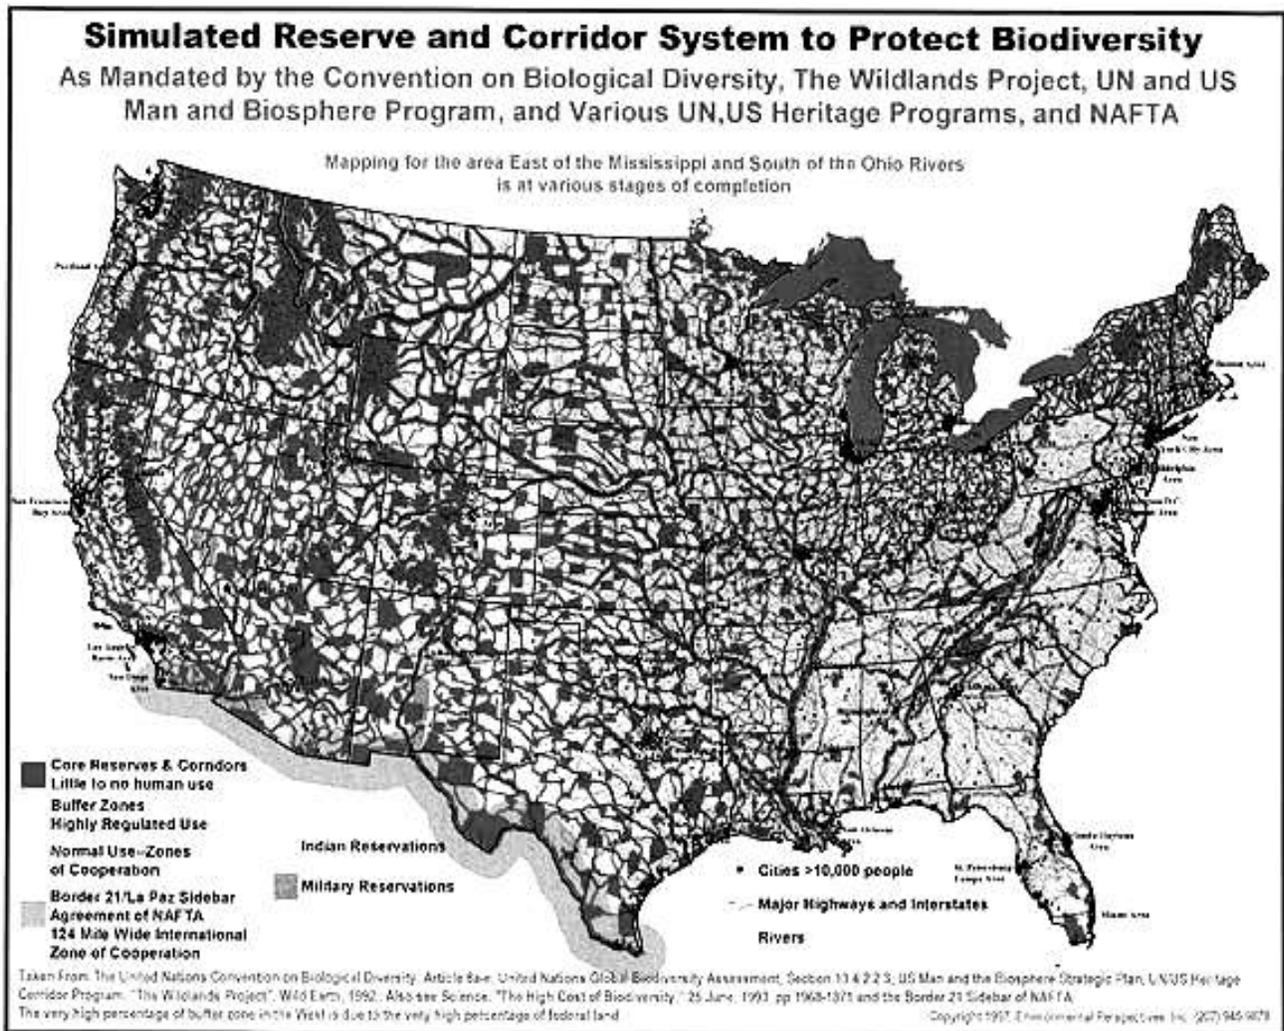

The drawing above provides the level of destruction that I saw occurring with the solid gray being total destruction then under water and the shaded gray being after mass destruction of the water lapping the shores and earth quake damage.

Research Confirms Dream

Based on followup research, I have concluded that it is the intent of the NWO to divide America into two countries to more easily manage her. Divide and conquer seems to be the battle strategy here.

Denver will become the national center of government for the new Western America and perhaps Ashville, NC. will become the national center of government for the new Eastern America. This theory is supported by the following map of the UN which is a front for the NWO.

You will notice on this map below the creators this map have not developed intricate corridors of UN control East of the Mississippi since it is supposed that such an exercise is futile. There may be little land left to be preserved once the New Madrid catastrophic earth quake occurs.

On the higher elevations of Appalachian mountains still above sea level, we will see developed an elite cultural civilization or ruling class (by invitation only) developed there that is expected to become the center of government in East America.

Two-Horned "Headed" Beast is America

America after its economic collapse is to become the two-horned beast of Revelation. This two-horned descriptive title does not make any sense unless America becomes two countries as the two horns in the biblical sense refer to two distinct political powers. In the mind of the occult world, this is a two-headed beast related to the two-headed phoenix of the Sumerians that rises from the fire to become a great power in their hands.

Some have tried to suggest that the civil war under Lincoln was a division of two or by citing the black-white racial divisions as the two horns but it is far more simple and concrete. Two distinct countries (two political heads but one economy) are planned for the US with the US as a nation being completely destroyed with the US Constitution becoming non-existent.

When will this happen? God Knows. I will say it must happen before the rise of the Antichrist since it is the two-horned beast (the lamb with two horns in Revelation) that forces the rest of the world into worshipping the image of beast of the Antichrist regime.
