

Spain Falls Then Rome

The Revelation

In the early morning of the 21st of May 2017, I found myself among a group of people some where in the universe that were privy to the events on earth that are to happen soon. I was discussing the destiny of some of the nations and then said very matter of factly;

“Spain must fall before Rome [the Vatican] will fall.”

Thoughts

This seemed to make sense at the time but as I awoke, I wondered what was the connection. I then remembered that the Inquisition was the most fierce in Spain and in my recent experience with a project with the Vatican, the Inquisition is still in Spain as they defrocked a bishop I was working with because he had a solution they did not like.

Then I remembered the following facts:

1. The return of true Israelites to Israel in the near future will include a gathering in Spain from American and other nations to the West, North and South of Spain.
2. The location of Septimania was an independent Israelite State located on the border of the Franks and Visigoths which provided a military buffer. It was absorbed by the 9th century.
3. The path of the return of true Israel is likely to go through the lands of ancient Septimania.
4. I recently had a vision of the rise of the VII Legion who will be an army of YHWH. The VII Legion historically settled in Septimania.
5. Many Celtiberians (Celtic Hebrews) and Sephardics are of the seed of Jacob and not of Esau or of the Khazar converts. These also will gather

The Migration

What this all suggests is that Spain will be in such a state politically and economically that it will not be able to resist the migration of 100's of thousands of true Israelites across their country. This VII Legion of Hebrew warriors will go by ship and by land to Israel as an army protecting those not conditioned for battle.

The prophets will go before them with the Priests of David to assure the forces of evil cannot stop this migration. The curse of Abraham (Those who bless you will be blessed and those who curse you will be cursed) will fall upon all those who resist and do not let true Israel pass through their lands.

The Vatican City in Rome may resist this migration and be consequently cursed with destruction.

It is very possible larger ocean going ships will be used for transport to Gibraltar from the Americas and then a transfer to an armada of hundreds of smaller vessels for the rest of the trip to Israel following something like the route above. Many true Israelites will be gathered together in joining the migration in Southern France. There is some indication that Syria and/or Lebanon may provide a landing harbor for the migration in landing just North of Israel.
